Judge W. H. Dickson-Mr. Roberts is possessed of all the qualifications prescribed by the constitution. Congress had prescribed no additional qualifications, and his credentials being regular upon their face, AT AN EARLY DATE + his right to his seat in congress, I think, should be undoubted. I think he should have been permitted to have taken the oath of office and thereafter, of course, he could have been expelled by a two-thirds vote. In refusing to permit him to take his seat, I think that the constitution was, Nearly All Want Convention + by the house of representatives, set at defiance, in obedience to what + seemed to be a popular demand. The name of Robert Burns was the hind started many a tear of deep appreciation from the hearts of those present.

The Caledonian club and its friends expressed their love and appreciation for the great Scottish poet, the poet of the heart. The entertainment at Christensens' hall last evening was of a high order, and the affair was a success in every particular. Programme Was Varied.

The programme was varied enough to suit the most fastidious. Eloquence and wit, music that set all hearts to dancing, songs that carried the listeners back to other days and familiar, though for away scene, a hearough fit for a king, even a Scottish king, and Itake City.

The entertainment opened with the banquet with Judge McDowell as toastmaster. Bishop Watson said grace and Chief James Rae welcomed the guests to the celebration of the 141st anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, and in doing so paid a beautiful tribute to the nest closing with an engreeiste. in doing so paid a beautiful tribute to the poet, closing with an appropriate poem. A medley of Scotch airs by Christensen's band came next and aroused enthusiasm. John Graham followed with a vocal solo, "Mary of Argyle"—that was so heartly cheered that Mr. Graham responded with a beautiful little song, "Only a Dream." The singer was in good voice and pleased his audience greatly.

Judge R. N. Baskin was next introduced by Toastmaster McDowell as a typical Scotchman, and spoke on "The Memory of Burns," quoting liberally from his poems. He spoke of Burns as, the poet of all the world who best expresses the yearnings of the human.

She was followed by Mrs. Nellie Latimer in a contralto solo, "Angus Macdonaid," that was well received, and the singer was compelled to respond to the encore, which she did gracefully. Judge W. H. King responded to the close as soon as ight. Luce and talking right to seat, "Our Country," in his most happy to sat, "Our Country, he was happy to close. Christensen's orchestra followed with "The Star Spangled Banner," while every person stood in respect, and a good round of applause furnished proof that the Scotch were loyal to their new, as well as to their old home.

The next number was the musical cumming Wetzell. The song is a beauturing the even of the evening, a soprano solo, "Take Back the Ring," by Mrs. Ella Cumming Wetzell. George Sutherland responded to the toast, "The President," and after a witty speech of ten runutes he proposed a standing toast to President McKiniey, and that he might retire from office with the good wishes of all his fellow citizens. This toast was drank with enthusiasm.
